Inclusion Network

Canada's National Aboriginal Online Job Site

The Inclusion Network is a fast growing network of Aboriginal job seekers and inclusive employers-of-choice.

To give you an idea of our success:

- 65% increase in registered job seekers between January 2009 and January 2011
- 10% increase in registered job seekers in 2011
- 140% increase in the number of jobs viewed between January and November 2011.

The Inclusion Network benefits from products like the National Aboriginal Virtual Recruitment Fair where ALL Aboriginal job seekers are welcome to participate, and the Inclusion Works National Aboriginal Recruitment Fair, which is targeted at post-secondary Aboriginal graduates.

With hundreds of employers posting career opportunities and engaging in Aboriginal inclusion, the Inclusion Network has become the “go to” online meeting place for employers to connect with Canada's future workforce.

Job Seekers

Over 7,000 First Nations, Métis and Inuit job seekers from across Canada have registered with the Inclusion Network and these numbers are increasing as marketing strategies targeted at Aboriginal job seekers and students in secondary institutions rollout. This lucrative supply of Aboriginal talent will make the Inclusion Network your first choice to build electronic short lists of Aboriginal candidates quickly and inexpensively.

Pricing

You can connect with this diverse candidate pool starting at just $300 for a job posting or you can search our rich database containing thousands of resumes starting at just $500.
